

Technology of work based on the optical element of perception of one's own Soul, Spirit and Consciousness

November 5, 2002

Today on my system of salvation and harmonious development I show technology of work on based on optical element of perception of one's own Soul, Spirit and Consciousness, to a greater extent the logical part of Consciousness. And when I speak of what works in the transmission of my "Teaching of Salvation and Harmonious Development" as a specific element of the Teaching or an aggregate part of the Teaching, here we must keep in mind that when you relate your actions precisely to the information Teachings, then there enters a wide technological complex, completely different in different by sections, And perceived should be either specifically - what you see in this information, or can be generalized as some kind of external glow.

Before the beginning of, so to speak, a lecture course of this kind, we must first do some practice. Since I have now met with you beforehand and given you certain information, now it is necessary to designate that as a result of the meeting how you see, let's say, the information of the meeting, yes?

translate into the structure of universal salvation?" That is, how to make it so that, for example, we talked beforehand, and how can such a technology of a short conversation be translated into the structure of universal salvation, and this structure should be expressed in the color aspect, that is, consider in what color it is expressed. Well mostly in light colors should be considered. That is, everyone must consider their particular color. And in doing so, it will take maybe literally a few minutes there, sometimes very little.

The essence will be this: I will simply pass the microphone, you will briefly absolutely tell me what the essence of the conversation was - approximately, very briefly with me - and say how you can translate, let's say, the recommendations I gave into the structure of universal salvation, that is, what color, just find the color, and that's it. In principle, the task is simple. Briefly illuminated, as we talked: well, there the subject, right?...or what, for example, I said that - you or the general essence, and what color to translate into the structure of universal salvation, because according to my Teachings you do everything first through the task of universal salvation. That is, we are now finding the integrated color. Everyone has it first, and when we define it and sort of set it before ourselves, then the situation is such that we get an integrated color, and I already begin the lecture part, which is already working through this integrated color. So, please, I am transmitting. When transmitting, use this microphone, too, if possible.

The listener - Grigory Petrovich asked me: do I see the girl, where I saw her. Then only, later, when I came here, I realized who it was. It was my daughter of ten, and I saw her mother by name afterwards. And Grigory Petrovich told me that I had not fully given the information to this Valya, who was standing behind me. I understand that I did not give information on the level of the Soul, though I told her a lot and gave her technologies. She worked and works, and I work with her. Well maybe it really is. And as for the color and how to approach salvation from a possible global catastrophe, I see silver-white here. And here as if a sphere stands before me - this sphere, because, as it seems to me, the silver-white color is already your Teachings, and already the salvation from a possible global catastrophe. This, for example, is how I understood it.

Grabovoy G.P. - okay. You can pass it on right away.

The listener, Grigory Petrovich, asked what associations I had with the name Michael and where I saw him. I answered: on the right. In what guise? - An archangel. Then he asked if I remembered a man I had met in my early childhood, a tall, young man. I must say I hadn't remembered him all these years, but then he popped up, I saw him at once, he had some white spot on his right shoulder - it seemed to me it was a dandelion. And he had a very handsome face, especially the beautiful cut of his eyes and his nose - that's the part that floated out very well. And I immediately remembered even what words he spoke to me. Grigory Petrovich advised me through the silver-white - to put on the silver-white color and the pink color. I think it will be very worthy, because pink, it goes, or I use it only when I need to give a person maximum love. I think the color pink will do everything. Thank you.

Listener - when Grigory Petrovich asked what was associated with the name Andrew, immediately my husband arose. And the first thing I felt in my Soul was white and pink: white, and pink was the shell. Then it went on: yellow, red, and information needs to be conveyed only at the level of green. And what I see in front of me now is a sphere - white and pink on top. These, I believe, are the colors of global salvation.

Grabovoy G.P. - good.

The listener Grigory Petrovich asked me about the associations that arise at the name Lyudmila. I remembered the name of a classmate.

Grigory Petrovich asked the question: where is it? On which side is it felt? It was felt on the left side. I understand this as tuning into the perception of the flow, for tuning into the perception of the flow of the Teachings, as the tasks that Grigory Petrovich set before me at this seminar - to perceive the continuity of this flow.

Grabovoy G.P. - and the color? the color of transmission for universal salvation?

The listener is the first color that arose when asked about the color, white, pure white. After that came a sense of green and later more clearly blue.

Grabovoy G.P. - OK. A big microphone, this one, pass it on.

Listener - Grigory Petrovich asked me if I knew a woman named Nadezhda Kim. At first I saw her on the left side. At first I couldn't remember who she was. Only when I got out, I realized that I had indeed met such a woman - a colleague-doctor. She and I had met at one time. Then he asked me about a color that I could see directly touching the body around me, acting on a certain area of the body. I saw such a blue aquamarine and felt at first the effect on the throat area and felt a very pleasant sensation. And the color, the sense of color, how it is perceived - such a spiritual kind of color, because, as further, it was I felt it as a light green-neon, here in this area. And as for the question of the global question of the unity of color, which can in the name of salvation be, first of all I saw such bright neon, then pink, blue, and then I ended up with gold.

Grabovoy G.P. - good.

Listener - Before the seminar, as far as I understood, I was instructed what to do in this seminar, and with the name Sasha. Well that's what I'm going to do. And as for the colors, which as if now before the seminar I looked at, what colors are now in the glow, I say: that this one up here, a little higher up, the big purple sphere is burning, very brightly. Then a stream comes, the sphere ends, and then a blue, celestial, blue stream begins. And there are many of them, that is, as if in waves. Each wave ends in a silvery white foam.

Grabovoy G.P. - and about Sasha - the main task now, from your point of view?

The listener is Consciousness.

Grabovoy G.P. - work with his Consciousness, right? Good.

The listener Grigory Petrovich asked me about the associations that arose with the names Alina and Anastasia. So I found Alina to my right at the bottom. As it turned out, this was correct. As for Anastasia specifically, I had a feeling that the name was connected to one of my ancestors. Grigory Petrovich confirmed this information. In general, I had never crossed paths with either Alina or Anastasia on the physical plane in my life. So, besides, there was a question about Alexander, a person with whom I have rather big problems. I very much hope that I will be able to solve them. So, the color I got was originally a bright purple with a white glow in the center. Later it turned into a sphere of this silvery white color, maybe with a little tinge of blue or purple at the moment-a big glowing sphere.

Grabovoy G.P. - ok. Please pass it on.

The listener, Grigory Petrovich, asked me about the name Vadim and asked me where I saw him around me. This name was clearly defined immediately here on my right side, despite the fact that I Vadim ... as if I have no acquaintances, well acquaintances somehow did not come immediately. And then how such a large sphere developed, even one could say colorless such a sphere, on the right side as if free of filling. Then Grigory Petrovich asked: who was Alexei? And the image of my friend's acquaintance, he immediately appeared on the left side, and a kind of warmth went at once, such a warmth - completely on the left side. Then Grigoriy Petrovich asked me to pay attention to a pole of silver color at the seminar. And really, when I sat down, I felt this flow, just like an avalanche of silver. And I believe that with global salvation, global disasters can be eradicated. Well in this case first as if to save myself and then through the spread of global salvation.

Grabovoy G.P. - another question: why, whom you did not remember at once - it was from the right side, yes?

The listener, yes. And I never remembered.

Grabovoy G.P. - yes, well, you don't know. And whom you know - with the left.

Why?

The listener - yes, yes, on the left side. I don't even know how to do that. Then it kind of happens that all the information comes in from the right side, but is stored on the left side.

Grabovoy G.P. - OK, pass it on, yes.

Listener - and by the way, and even when I came in, for some reason I immediately wanted to sit on this side, because, as they said, you can sit there to perceive the information.

Grabovoy G.P. - good.

The listener - I'm always on the right side of the lecture, I like it here.
I try to sit upright on the right side.

Grabovoy G.P. - yes.

Listener - Grigory Petrovich asked me: who is Alyona. She's one of my children. When I was about to go, she was preparing for a session. "Let me go, let me go," - well, she wanted too, but I said:

"Me first, then you." So I was given the task of passing knowledge to her: to take it in gold and pass it on in this silver-white color. So I have her in front of me. Well, why? That's the way it should be, I guess. I have it like this. It's the first time I've ever met a person who can see everything, name names, the way you can. For me, it's like... I don't know.

Grabovoy G.P. - no, you just had the goal of coming here: to impart knowledge to her, so I, yes, that's why I singled her out for you.

Listener - yes, thank you.

Grabovoy G.P. - but, you know, it is the color of universal salvation that interests me.

Listener - yes, that's my color: the sphere goes - silvery white.

Grabovoy G.P. - good.

The listener is okay, right?

Grabovoy G.P. - Yes, of course, it's okay. Let's pass it on.

Listener - thank you.

Grabovoy G.P. - I told you that it is possible to allocate a different color to everyone. And I don't insist on any particular one. So, Ludmila Ivanovna, please, just what color is it?

The listener is pink

Grabovoy G.P. - okay. Lyudmila Ivanovna and I spoke a little earlier - not today. That's why today those who spoke today are talking. If you paid attention, when the work began, and it turned out that the work was going counterclockwise, the transitions of colors: silver-light, pink, and then pink again - it was like a second wave, right? In general the integrated light is closer to silvery hues, but given that there is different differentiation in colors, we will agree in this way that given that, indeed, the universal color is sort of a direct linear access, it is in more

The degree of silvery, so silvery-white; shades - it means more in this case the speed of perception. That is, by adding shades, one simply, as a rule, speeds up one's perception.

So we will now agree that in the middle of the table, right?... there is a silver-colored sphere in front of us, which, well, can be overlaid with various, peculiar, lens-like overlays of pink, green - whoever perceives it. And when a seminar is going on, try to accentuate the colors from time to time. And those names that I mentioned during the preliminary meeting, try to interact with them, i.e. to give them knowledge or to teach them at the same time in some way, just try to keep them in mind. That is, the meaning of technology is that in addition to what you master - well, where there's a direct example, where, indeed, you've come with the goal of basically passing knowledge to Alena - the task is such that it's desirable to pass on knowledge to others, preferably literally in real time.

And because the point of this control is that, for example, I can diagnose a nuclear power plant, and I can shift parameters so that there is no explosion, for example. And if a problem occurs somewhere else, maybe not a similar problem but one that requires a similar mechanism, then you can transfer knowledge and information to different sides at the same time, so to speak, the principle of universality and the principle of instant response. And as a rule, there's a principle of either direct transmission or direct control, or at best yet, well the best option is when people still learn in parallel. That is, for example, if I do various aviation diagnostic protocols there, then those who read from the aviation environment, they understand that it can be done, it can be diagnosed or, if it is a cure, then it can be done that way.

Here is our task, when we are mastering today the technologies of work actually based on the Soul - the work will go on now, then it is desirable that people can see, hear and understand it best at once. That is, yes, and so if, for example, well people whom you do not know are one type of transmission, whom you know is another type of transmission. It's like here even in ethical systems: The soul is first of all the ethical side, right?...of the universe in terms of contact, communication. And if, for example, you don't know - you transmit differently. You cannot, for example, - well, a simple example: a man is walking on the street, - and just, for example, walk up to him and say something to him, to a stranger, right?...that is, there are ethical parameters. But if there is a possibility of a global catastrophe, one must be able to convey even to strangers. And you have to be able to pass it on.

I am exaggerating, of course, on the street, but, nevertheless, one has to be able to transmit, right? And this way of transmitting is simultaneously a vibrational component, it turns out, of the Souls of people, their Spirits, their Consciousness of a kind of generalized purpose, yes?...this collective-integrated environment of collective Consciousness, where joint work takes place.

That is, if people are working simultaneously on a large task, then within the framework of simultaneous work they must still, it turns out, communicate, somehow transmit information. Well, imagine that there is a large ship, on which the same type of cargo to save the ship is delivered. And those who do it, they can communicate, even though, for example, they may not know each other before they communicate. And here the principle of such transfer in the general case is desirable to realize in today's seminar, that is to find a constant, intellectual, maybe even straining, that is to create such intellectual deep vibration in the management, that there is a transfer of knowledge, and knowledge to all, and knowledge about the universal salvation.

Thus, I begin the lecture part, which, of course, is based on the preceding part connected with a certain training and practice, plus the task I have set. And the lecture is defined by that today, and the seminar implies also your work, not only my lecture part, even at the moment of the lecture, that by the technology of spreading exactly my "Teaching on Salvation and Harmonious Development" we will consider the work of the Soul, the Spirit, the Consciousness, in a greater degree the logical phase of Consciousness, and in this way that the Soul organizes the Spirit and creates Consciousness.

In this regard, using this approach, we must simultaneously address the absolutely practical, let's say, basics that exist in the tasks of the world, the basics related to the fact that we have to build somewhere in a certain way the world, to somehow form information, and the seminar will go as work in the real system today.

So here is the real task, right?... of the world community, your personal, forecast tasks, tasks even of the past, and so on - this is an integrated environment. And so when I say that well there is, yes, an ethical phase of work where ethics is

The organization of the Soul, then it is precisely the exit of the ethical parameter to reality - this is the fastest exit to the system of, for example, physical control.

Well, it seems like a simple term, doesn't it? "ethical parameter," but when we relate it to the Soul - ethical norms, there are interaction structures embedded in ethics, as I said here on the ethics of like a common creative cause, right?...to save everyone.

And so moving on to this information, exactly the ethical side of the Soul's action, this side, it is defined by the fact that there is a certain luminescence. It is a very strongly concentrated silver-colored glow that is at, shall we say, a small distance from you, about, say, half a meter away, and it refers, generally speaking, to everyone. That is, there are elements that exist in everyone. And the exit, as if the main concentration, well, such a sphere-concentration is the exit to infinity. And here is the infinity, which is, it turns out, at a distance somewhere about half a meter away from your physical body, it organizes you. And so when the infinite medium organizes you, you see that you are in the reality of interacting with the entire communication system.

And so the principle of today's lecture is precisely the interaction with reality, so the element of my Teachings, it is in, shall we say, the wave of information coming from this sphere, the sphere of infinity, and coming to you. And when you look at the elements of the Teachings, you see: first, you can see sections of the Teachings, you can see, let's say there, a concentration on numbers, some specific technologies. And when you go through specific technologies, the reality is that they are already here, right?...they are there, and through them the control has been accomplished, for example, some restorative procedures have taken place. And when you see control, it turns out, even farther, well for example any person can wonder, "look even farther on the physical level," farther than half a meter, then infinite Spirit begins.

That is, today we have arranged the parameters of management in such a way that the Soul is a super-high concentration, which is outside of you and simultaneously outside of you, yes?...in a point; and it organizes, it is this environment, in a point, which is outside of you, that organizes you as a logical system of Consciousness. You, too, are a manifestation of a certain system of logical actions, i.e. the physical body is also the logic of Consciousness. And when you go to the level of the spiritual system here is this notion of a definite system, right?... the logical action turns into an absolute system of absolute, exact Divine meaning: why exactly this is how the body is arranged, why exactly this is how the action of the body occurs. That is, if Consciousness - logic - is an expanding parameter, Consciousness, well, in principle, it is clear: you can read and expand something, right?...for example you can cognize, then Spirit is an infinite parameter in this case. And when we place the positions of Soul, Spirit and Consciousness in this way, we see the color aspects exactly in the optics of perception, how everyone perceives a particular parameter, such as Soul and Spirit.

But here I was, for example, asking questions: name. And indeed, immediately - a person, and there were precise indications of where, on which side the information was perceived. It is possible to ask questions at the level of the Soul, and then a geometrical outline is immediately visible. It is clear why geometry is visible, because the logical phase formed in the event plane, it as if unwinds around the point of concentration of the Soul. Thus, I've come to the point that there are Soul's concentration points around the physical body, and it's like a kind of framework that organizes the physical body as well. That is the logical phase of Consciousness can be developed to such an extent that the body becomes eternal, for example: a cell can completely regenerate, right?... a disease can regenerate in the sense that it has regained health.

And recovery, by the way, here's the concept of "recovery of the organism in disease," right?... a peculiar principle arises such that the disease goes into the phase of the past event and is sort of recovered in the phase of lack of access. Here the past is like a system of lack of access, that is, if there's information about a disease, then it's there, too. Well there is, for example, some data on diseases in, for example, a classifier, but at the same time there is, for example, the WHO classifier - the World Health Organization on the main diseases there, right?... diseases. This one is.

information. Here's how to make it not be activated,

Right?... That said, we have a lot in life: there are some commercials running on TV, some situational systems, just information that exists as just perceptual information, information under sensorily developed systems as predictive. How to make information which is undesirable for realization, to make it inactive, that is to make it passive, and in the prognosis to make it not occur to anybody at all, because we work a system of all connections.

For this there is a very simple way - it is differentiation of the current time into elements, for example, past and current. Then, by putting into the structure "into the system of the past" we sort of wrap up the information in a kind of a petal level, and the fact that before you there was a system of concentration of your Soul as an element of the current time looks from the point of view of management of the past in terms of not arising, right?... a negative situation, like a transition system through some hourglass, transition, but into the logical phase of Consciousness. That is the Soul flows into the logical phase of Consciousness in your perception.

Given that everything is organized by the Soul, it is clear that the logical phase of Consciousness is also the Soul, but there is always the presence of the Creator. And this is the level of transition, right?...through contraction "Hourglass", well in quotes, of course, "hourglass" - this is how the Creator shows the action of universal salvation, because there is one absolutely definite law in the structure of control through Consciousness, that any system of transition, any non-uniform system - this is the Creator's action. That is, we have defined a very simple law and tied this law actually to work with a particular structure of Consciousness - the logical phase of the Soul - and shown that transition is the Creator's action.

When you look at how God acts in transition, when you go exactly to the word "God," that is, this is the universal aspect of governance, you see that the Creator, yes?...that is, God is that which is organized on the spiritual basis of your perception. So you perceive God with your heart, yes?...through the spiritual structure in this case, therefore, and the Soul is that which is created by God, hence it can act as the Creator acts. It's just a question of opening the control structure to the level of just, well, external reality, that is the element of cognition only, which is just to understand what the Creator teaches in this aspect.

And here is the transition, namely the projection of knowledge of the Creator onto the element of Consciousness, which we have distinguished here, as organizing you structure from the point of concentration of the Soul - this projection is the exact technology of actions, in what way the past aspect should be made, so that the past, which in general works in our case as a system of pacification of something negative, does not shift parameters of the past, that is we should work so that introducing control in this area, in the past, we practically reverse the past. In other words, it turns out that, on a logical level, this task is quite peculiar: to take, a negative element into some volume and, moreover, get some more benefit from that negative element, right?... to that volume in a logical sense.

So, when we encounter this aspect of logic, it turns out that the logical phase of Consciousness is just as organized by the structures of Spirit, and just as the physical body is organized, for example, by the structure of the Soul with the presence of the Creator in the transition points, or, as is clear here, that the Creator is then, therefore, naturally, everywhere, since He exists in the transition points. And so, too, when we speak of the fact of the Creator's existence, we see that He is that which is done.

Here is a very important aspect from the current lecture: the element of direct contact with the Creator is what is being done now on the task of universal salvation. Consequently, when in the structure of my Teachings I put first of all the task of universal salvation, I naturally give a direct level of contact with the Creator. And when you act on the level of this contact, the other tasks become very simple.

Consider the Creator's point of view. He created everything at once, simultaneously, for him, in principle, there can be no differentiation in time, because events always exist at every point, right?...like a sum total of events. And it turns out the action is facilitated. If you enter this state, the state of the Creator, then it turns out that you can act very simply, without straining. And here are these elements of well, let's say, vertical, yes?... flowing spiritual lines, where there are points of... logical phase of Consciousness again, because I translate all the time into logic, we have to perceive through logic as ordinary knowledge. And when I translate this control into logic, then we see that any tasks that arise are actually, they are not difficult to solve if we initially proceed from the Creator's position.

And when we begin to perceive this position, the Creator's actions become familiar. Well, really, because the Creator created you, and, consequently, you, even moving, are also laid down actions from the Creator, if you just think about the situation logically. And this is familiar to you, right? But this is the element of familiarity: "familiar", right? "I know," - where does this come from? Well, it's kind of here, right next to here. That is why I said that it is the external flow that organizes the logical Consciousness: what we have talked about when we were still talking about today's practice, and the wave that comes, that you know exactly. First the wave, and then you can find out, right? Now, if we have this property "then you can find out" translate into a task, you know from somewhere, don't you?...how do you know? Now this is what organizes universal reality in terms of the logical reproduction of control according to the purpose of control. Pay attention here, you can listen to this again later. And as soon as we come to the goal of control - here at last we come to the specific goal of control by goal - what I just said, it leads to the fact that in the specific goal we must first know what, for example, I said today.

And when we come to the specific goal of management, this goal, it is clear enough. First of all, you must perceive the clarity of the goal, that is, it must be clear to you. Maybe not specifically there-you may not even think about the details of the goal-but you must first feel and understand the clarity of the goal according to today's technology. And this clarity of purpose, well, let's say, maybe a bluish-light color with silvery hues you can imagine, and this sphere of universal salvation, which stands before you, if you receive light through it, then it is clear - the purpose first, right?... universal salvation - it is very clear. In order to take the next step, it is necessary at least that the Earth, yes?... exist. That is, it is clear that we do, it turns out, the minimum action right now, that is, the minimum necessary to do the next action. First we have to make sure that there is no global destruction, then the next action is done.

So, if the sphere is - universal salvation - in front of me, then, as if going beyond the sphere of Consciousness, I see how the logical phase of the Consciousness of All is organized. And so when we enter the logical phase of the Consciousness of All, we can give it a spirituality, where in the spiritual phase there are already such, logical tasks: universal salvation, ensuring, for example, eternal harmonious development, not allowing there a possible global catastrophe and so on, including private ones. It is best not to allow even local catastrophes or even small as if negative aspects.

So here, when we set the goal of "not allowing it," a fragment of the future emerges as a fragmental rigid part, which, as it turns out, is always present, for example, there on our right. Here I'm giving a lecture, and suddenly we discover that all the time there was information of a fragment of the future on the right. And so if we through this fragmentary part, yes? - is projected.

at once both Soul, and Spirit, and Consciousness, and plus those parameters that you see in the information - through this fragmentary part we come out as it were, right?...to our right, then we see how your own heart, which organizes you, - the heart that organizes you, is being organized.

It's very easy to go further: how does each cell organize you? how does the cell work at all? where does the nucleus work there? why exactly does the cellular structure work like that on a micro level? Go into the crystal system, yes?...the molecular system, and you can see exactly why you are so organized and why each element can organize, how redundant, yes?...a multi-reserve system you get, if each element can organize you. But when you go deeper, you will see that each element is what actually represents already expanded, that is Consciousness, where the Soul is the Consciousness, because you are organized by the Soul and by the Creator. And where the Soul is already Consciousness. And when you logically as if come to that, you get into a certain, well, peculiar spiritual structure of knowledge, where Spirit is what is primary for the logical phase of Consciousness.

So, if for the logical phase of Consciousness - this, for example, is primary, Spirit is primary, then you see on a perfectly simple such logical level that the Spirit that organizes the primary phase, exactly the phase of logical Consciousness, is your own Spirit. That is, keep in mind that this is the allocation of your own Spirit in the control, where your Spirit was present, in what element and in the number of events. We need to know exactly how much control has been applied in a particular phase of an event in order to distinguish ourselves from, say, thinkers out there, right?...who may be thinking or dreaming. Well let's say I did a diagnosis of an airplane, it's accurate, but no one knows about it, for example, in the first moment.

By the way, the knowledge that I am telling you now, I am realizing it for the first time at all, that is, I have never stated anywhere until this moment about this management structure, and in general I present knowledge in this way at seminars. That is they are organized here and now according to the task of universal salvation. For example, I can there, well if it is an aviation task, yes?... some task or the rescue of a nuclear power plant - this is a specific task, it is realized in the current moment, and it is possible to save. If how - consider the current moment, it is, in principle, no different from the task of that, right? It's just that there, too, was the task of universal salvation, but you had to, for example there, specifically make sure that it didn't fall down airplane. This is action, but action, it must be indicated by a quantitative environment: how much action is needed to really ensure that there is no plane crash, for example? how much action is needed to ensure that a person survives, yes... or if there are severe illnesses, or situational systems?

So, what I'm saying now about the structure of the Spirit, I'm just showing through such a seemingly unusual system as the Spirit, the precision that the Spirit is precision. And really, when you perceive spiritually, you often don't analyze, don't compare, right? It's familiar to everyone that a person who perceives on a spiritual basis will not analyze, "but why exactly is that there?" And that is the differentiation of a kind of thinking that does not give direct control, but can only be, say, thinking in another area. What's different about what I see, for example, right?...some possible version of a problem or a defect in an airplane there? And because I'm looking in a particular place. That's how I asked the questions: "that's where you see it?" But, characteristically, that's where they showed me, by the way. So it turns out - but I said I was asking the question with the Soul, right? The Soul always sees and always knows, and you can ask questions with logic, right?...as if from the other side, in the other control point - and then it turns out, a person starts to think. The logical phase as a peculiar whirlwind begins to twist control parameters, and you start to well on the logical one, i.e. you move into the space of thinking.

And here, when I'm talking about the transition to the space of thinking, this is a very, keep in mind, very important moment in today's meeting, because I said that I'm organizing a lecture right now. I mean I, well I mean I haven't read this anywhere, for example, right?...this. If I'm diagnosing a new airplane, it's a unique situation: an airplane is always different, right?...or saving a person is always the next situation. Hence, this lecture is the next situation, and here we clash with the current reality that our task is to manage all reality now. Consequently, we only need to do what we need to do now. And this management is often either super-fast mastering of information, or just well as you drive a car: different places, different situations, - it may not help you because you remember the previous tracks. And in driving, you don't need it at all often, because it's in driving that you have to see what's happening now.

So, the transition to the logical phase, the transition where the space of thinking is control, and you have logic, it leads to what you see directly. That is, you can think about some machine, an airplane, or some planet, that, yes, there is a planet or an airplane. Well you can see that maybe there are some units inside there. So you can think for an endless amount of time, but you can't really consider the unit, right?... in reality, as exactly the problematic in terms of universal salvation. So, this is the variant of enlightenment, yes?... in order not to have an infinite amount of thoughts of some kind, which, by the way, if there is an infinity parameter in thinking, which needs to be accelerated, this parameter is simply excluded by ordinary control. That is, you can, for example, move on a spiritual level, right?... and be in an exact position, or you can remove the parameter of ... thinking, and that's it. And you immediately get back to the same point, but it will already be logic.

So, the transition to logic is a variant of action from you, in the logic of thinking at that. And when we go to the fact that in the logic of thinking we have control to infinity, we realize that we are both in the spiritual basis and in the basis of actually Soul, yes?...and where there is logic. For at the base of the Soul, logic actually has to be absolute, well in the understanding of absoluteness as a process of exactness. And when we already act, it turns out, from this position, what we now see as elements of perception-what are we doing now? - And in many ways what we inform perception, not only do we consider some laws there that exist in Consciousness, in perception, but we also shape perception at the same time, and at the same time we manage all the external reality, the current tasks.

So, when I set a problem and find the point where the private problem is already here, then by taking it from there, from this part of control, here, we see that it is only necessary to put it on logic, but in this context of the lecture, which was created during the last interval, when I said "here we finally came to the private problem," then as soon as I just mechanically take and put it from there, we begin to see that the realization begins, yes?... and the exact realization. And if, well, it depends... Here it depends on how this information is kept in the memory: if it is stable, then quick and exact realization; if memory works in such a way that it is distracted, quickly and quickly solving the problems of others or transmitting knowledge, then it's gradual. That is, this is another personal aspect, of course, is important.

But when it is meant that the task of universal salvation is the first, the most urgent task, then everyone works in synchronicity. And this version of synchronicity in work means that your memory, i.e. your logical phase of Consciousness, is what determines the position, actually the structurization of the Soul. So it turns out that we can structure the Soul.

The structurization of the Soul is a very important element, because, well, let's say, the Soul was originally created by the Creator and it is actually, well, it's infinite. And to structure the Soul - this is a colossal level of self-development, if you can do the structuring on your own. That is keep in mind, be extremely attentive here, because I tell you that, for example, as I am creating a lecture material now - there was no such information before: to structure your own Soul by yourself means to use the most powerful mechanisms, right?... for self-development, for the influence on the outer reality. And here we have to be very careful, because a person's Soul holds almost very, well, like, the basis of external and internal reality. If you structure, as if you shift a geometrical position - you are in the optical element, you sort of take and shift the element of light, - then it turns out that the whole world starts to be very reagent towards your action.

And this level of reactivity, of course, is very good, because you can do well so that a nuclear power plant does not explode, and instantly, and, by the way, without straining. Just by setting a structurization task, you derive a parameter, an optical one at that, the Soul parameter. When you do this, you see where the first identified element of your Soul's structure is. Well, for example, it's there in the form of a certain tapering cone to the right. To save it from a nuclear catastrophe, all you have to do is take it, right? With Consciousness, but the Consciousness here is already integrated with the Soul, move it around and put it at the point where there are no catastrophes. That's it, you got it, no more problems. You know for sure already, absolutely for sure, that there is no nuclear catastrophe. But at this point you see that the world is in motion, i.e. the world becomes very mobile, because you have removed the supporting element, right? It is a completely safe technology because you act on your own, i.e. you control the technology completely. What is the main task here? So that the action is not hidden to others. That's why I say be careful.

When you receive knowledge, knowledge must be open. And here the openness is the spiritual control to you, that is, the external, as it were, the rolling of the wave of the spiritual aspect of you. You see that Spirit, which is from outside, and Spirit is yours, because today I said that you can know exactly where Spirit is: the exact coordinates, the quantitative coordinates. And when you do this spiritual direction to you, then what you know, others know, and when you want to show this knowledge, of course. That is, it is absolutely such a well sort of unique, ethically subtle side of the question. And for universal salvation, all knowledge, even Grains, right?...they are definitely needed. And when you go into such a state, even here you read a book, yes?... it becomes known and understandable to others.

And here is the knowledge that we talked about today, which I give, only in this state, they are immediately understandable. Just look, if a man is walking on the sidewalk - he understands them at once, he hasn't even begun to accept them yet - they are understandable to him. You see, he hasn't become aware of them yet - they're clear to him. Why? Because the world is also understandable, he understands it as it is, he understands how to walk. When a tree grows, he understands that it grows, right?... and why it grows. Moreover, if man is, he understands himself, well, because he already is, right? This is the truth from the Creator. And this truth of the world, this truth that creates the logical phase of world awareness, is what allows, from the space of thinking, from the logical space of thinking, to manage through the knowledge of the development of the Soul, for example, structurization is also the development of the Soul, to manage reality in a universal context.

That is, if you develop this structure to, shall we say, infinity, you can enter a system where there is no restriction of access. For universal salvation, you have to have such opportunities. That is, if you see that some global catastrophe is possible, you must have an exit to a system where there are no restrictions on access, because often to shift the parameters is to obtain new knowledge. And if you have, for example, somewhere all the same some restrictions on access, then it turns out that it is a drag on time. Consequently, the absence of restrictions in obtaining even information - it is a task of management on universal salvation, and to this task it is necessary to have a way.

And when we talk about universal creation, this is information only about how to save, by the way. Here it cannot be used there for any third situations. Just why does your personal practice need it? You have to realize your tasks, your creative tasks, because it's a practice that allows you are at a certain level, right?...interacting with reality, understanding that you, since you did it, then you know how to do it, and plus the fact that practice is always practice, it's better to practice.

So, and here these, as it were, united systems show that the principle of direct and absolutely precise access is also the technology of the organization of perception, that is, in terms of understanding how the space of thinking is organized in general in the perception of the external environment. Of course, understandably, there are sense organs there, for example, right?...vision, but if we're talking about the original structure of man, then we're talking about understanding the original meaning here - not how the eyes work physiologically there, for example. Even if you know how the eyes physiologically work, how do you even know why exactly a person sees that way, right?...that is.

And here is the element that if, for example, if you look at how other systems perceive, for example, if you look at how a snail, say, perceives external reality, then if you enter the structure of transference to human consciousness, then the snail simply perceives that it is always in some large light sphere, which is light. So, any object should be viewed simply as a fluctuation of the sphere, nothing more. It does not differentiate, does not detail, for example, whether it is a plant or some water, just an oscillation of the sphere; it does not perceive anything else. But this allows it, for example, yes?... to exist in its own continuum of development.

So if we look at how perception goes, well, as it were, in external systems, we see that the canonical system is, again, the human being in perception. It is a multifunctional, multidisciplinary perception even in one pulse control element, where the task of also distributing other systems for co-development is concentrated, i.e. the snail also has to do something to avoid global destruction, but not everyone there, right?...elements of reality know this now. That is, the development of reality is the development of external systems as well.

So, according to my Teachings on Salvation and Harmonious Development, there is also a need to inform, that is, to transmit information to all objects of information, to all elements of reality, so the concept of "being in reality" is simultaneously a kind of teaching reality. And pay attention, if you just pass by some garden, let's suppose, yes?... and next time you come to it, there is a kind of a veil there...

The kind that is labeled as a kind of diagnostic system - what did you do when you passed: did you what?...help this garden or how much did you help it? If it's people, how much did you they were helped, weren't they?...and if we are talking about universal salvation, it works the same way too, that is, as far as you have now put into the structure of universal salvation.

And so when we need to invest - well, not as much as we probably want to, right?...and do we have the time - we often have a task that we have to do exactly, regardless of even time and even regardless of seemingly accumulated tasks. So, there is the principle of instantaneous output in all tasks of the personality. The personality is arranged very precisely, the Creator created man absolutely precisely - he immediately begins to differentiate the task in the plan, if there is precisely a problem of universal, yes?... as if annihilation, it turns out that the personality can translate all the tasks into the goal of counteraction. In this case, the person, for example, at the level of logic, he believes that he solves the current problem, yes?... but at the same time, he really solves it, but at the same time he acts for universal salvation. So the principle of universal salvation is, generally speaking, the most fundamental level of human organization, and everyone has it.

And now, as a certain training-practice, try to do it this way. Very simply, yes?...and clearly explain to those around you, to everyone there, to the whole world, that this principle exists, that it is such an organization in man, yes?...and at this level, in fact, as if explaining information, work on your tasks now and here. Now, there is an element of lecture material, a certain practical training, and now and here work on your tasks taking into account what you have heard now, because there is also something else that you have received without, for example, yes?... verbal accompaniment. And you work on that first - what heard, and then go on to the phase that I told you, For example, on the basis where there are no words. And by analogy, since I say that A lecture is created here, a seminar is created here, for the first time, by analogy, pass it on to everyone. I am in fact engaged in the transfer of knowledge, and you now begin to work, transfer, give even to those who are there very far away.

Diagnosing an airplane, by the way, or preventing a crash there, is also a transfer of knowledge: either remotely, implicitly, or explicitly, right?...by way of a phone call there - and they take the airplane off the flight. That's also a transfer of knowledge. And now we're going to work more on direct transmission. You can do it there:

to restore health at a distance, you can restore a technogenic fee of some kind, you don't have to make a phone call. And that's the principle of it is to have as much direct control as possible often. So now you work on your tasks, and I'll see.

Thus, having worked according to the technology of today's seminar on your concrete tasks, see the principle and actually the methodology of Soul management, when technologically the Soul works as a structure perceived by you in your perception, that is, you perceive how the Soul works in the optical expression, and you see how the work happens. That is, having considered, for example, the sphere of universal salvation and first here are your private tasks, having passed through the sphere, you solve, yes?...private tasks plus the tasks of all who dock with your private ones, then already the tasks, generally speaking, universal as the whole plan of reality.

Here there is a principle, how can we call it, like the petal principle of control from the Soul, where you perceive first in an optical expression the elements of your own Soul as, well if we compare it to the technology of petals, then as vibrations of the petal area, that is as at a certain distance, and it can be considered at any distance. If you work in the space of thinking, there's really no concept of distance there, only in thinking. But this petal principle allows to simultaneously work in both physical and thinking space. And so the transition from thinking space to physical space is something that teaches, so structures the Soul, as I said, teaches how thinking is management, how, in fact, the organization of perception is management.

So, the petal principle is first to see in the area of the physical body, better in the area of the usual visual systems, in the area of the head, to see how there are vibrations of light elements in the distance from the body, to highlight that this movement of light elements on such a petal-wave principle first - this is the element of the Soul. How to do this - according to the technology of the lecture I showed where the element of concentration of the Soul is. Then I said that there are elements of the concentration of Spirit in the logical phase of Consciousness, which are of the same type of organization. This is found only by knowing that it is there; it is not often found geometrically somewhere specific.

And so when there is a transition from specific points, yes?...to points of knowledge, we get a space of thought operating in exact control. And when we understand this, we see where the Soul works, at what specific point. And when we put an event, for example in the geometrical center of the table I put the event, and I see that the petal phase of Soul's management worked there, I do not need to monitor the structure of the event, because it has worked, the result is already correct. That is a special and special principle of control, when Soul's work is the result, which is not even necessary to control.

And in the structure of universal salvation, there are tasks when we must necessarily receive control. And there is a form of control. Pay attention, this is the first time I am speaking about it. In this very aspect, primary information from the point of view of qualitative and informational level, there are systems of control that should not be preserved in the space of information of external control. In other words, the technology or information from the explosion should not be preserved as part of the evolution of the situation. Consequently, this principle, precisely the petal principle, when you do not have to check the result, it does not fix the information. It is a very specific, rigid, and practically universal system of control that allows you to control at very different levels of information when certain information comes out that does not need to be recorded, we do not check it. So it can be considered when the control has been accomplished - positive, effective in terms of saving everyone.

Moreover, the notion of, say, such universal salvation is often a concentration of light, but it takes time to analyze exactly who and where was saved, yes?...but you often find yourself in situations where you have to save in many places, not necessarily only in one. And so when the exit goes as if into another system, where the thinking becomes such that you have to pay attention to a certain second, yes?... system, because in logic each event, it is as if separated one from another, and in the space of the Spirit it is closer concepts, and in the Soul it must be one. And so when you come to unity from the Creator, you see that this, let's say, petal principle of Soul control, it's very dynamic, for example, in terms of... well, a kind of overlap in sound even.

You can look at the sound characteristics, see how the phase of the sound is organized, in general, how the sound of the Soul is organized.

So, and here is when you... and the sound of the Soul is organized very simply: it is organized often from action. When the Soul is at rest, that is, the action of rest is the sound of a quiet Soul, yes?...a sound that is not differentiated and not transposed, by the way, into notes, a sound that is perceived by you individually, and it often signifies the factor of spiritual presence. So there's this.

"spirituality" the notion that some hear this way, some hear it differently, but everyone, at the level of the sound of the Soul, hears how the sound of the Soul is organized. Here be careful: "hears how the sound of the Soul is organized," I said in view of the fact that we are already talking about the fact that the Soul sees how the sound of the Soul is organized. This is a special concept, in logic it is usually, well, little or no use of it, because in logic yes? Consciousness there is an element there, that if some element is organized, then how it itself is organized is too long a system of logical transitions.

Here, for example, a person, he can look himself there, you can look through a microscope, right?... a logical phase. But you get a closed circuit. The source of diagnostics is himself. And in principle, if we come to the structure of the Soul, then there this property, it is harmonious, that is, it turns out that the Soul knows how the sound of the Soul is organized, that is, the sound of its own system turns out, as it were. Consequently, it is included in the unified system that the essence of the Creator, the presence of the Creator, is the Soul itself, which solves the tasks of the Creator.

And given that the Creator's tasks are eternal universal development without, of course, disasters, even the principle of the Creator, it is very clear and visible. As long as it is created, yes?... reality is a logical phase, just look at logic - and it is such that trees grow there, yes?... people develop, civilization, initially the goal, it is just unambiguous as a phase of universal harmonious development. There is no notion of catastrophe there, the meaning, right?...in the organization. The logical phase begins to kick in immediately. Logic begins to, as it were, let's call it, bring in a word like sound. You can apply a word like "pounding," pounding exactly. Well, the sound is "heart pounding," right? ...and that's what you hear in the logical phase.

And so when we see that everything is created for creation, for eternal development, because it is visible, it is transparent, it is, right?... such a term, then here the logic moves to a spiritual basis, to infinity. That is, the transition arises in the infinity of development logical phase of Consciousness. And infinity is the same understandable and the same, in fact, harmoniously created by the Creator, and it is very clear why it should be infinite, just as it is clear why everything should be eternal and creative. And when this is the case, it is clear that the answer is in the logic, and there is a solution. Well, for example, I can write on a problem, right?...write-not a few times I kind of often even used on a day when I was still at university-wrote just about what they have there, or at school even. That is, the situation is that well now here I am, for example, conducting a seminar on logic, but the answers are there, because they are there as a logical level, and the fact that it is immediately clear what word to organize, so that there is no universal destruction, so that there is universal salvation and salvation for everyone personally at that. This is a somewhat different system - more of the inner world there is covered by the individual. And it is clear that in this case collective thinking almost like soap bubbles burst in the information structure of some even local catastrophes, because there is a control coming from the knowledge, where you start to organize your own control.

And when we get such a well-developed structure in space, yes?... our, already integrated space, united, then the future is built very clearly, simply and accessible, that is the future - as a structure of the development of Spirit actually from the physical body. Notice the wording that I'm saying that it's just from the physical body the development of Spirit is the future in this control structure. And it turns out that in order to build a sustainable future, that first to realize, to see, yes?...in the space of information one's self. And what does "in the space of information" mean? It's very simple. The world is organized very clearly. Here is a room, right?... for example, and that's it - we have fixed ourselves.

But when we are already talking about the relationship with people, it is already infinity. That is, take at least the minimum level of even well as the analysis of interaction - we immediately see infinity. That is, Spirit reacts in such a way that a fixed system of a certain - often finite elements of interaction, that is, there are three parameters: room, yes?... and so on, and the possibility of interaction with a person is immediately infinite line. Spirit contains a logical phase of transition of Consciousness into the spiritual aspect of control, i.e. Consciousness controls the spiritual aspect. Because we logically set ourselves a task: either we fix a location or we want to talk to somebody, right? And so.

contact infinite from the desire to talk - this is what the Soul organizes. The Soul organizes the eternal.

And when we look at these notions from the point of view of our logical or ordinary tasks, then the purpose of ruling and the task of ruling becomes such, that being on a certain, yes?... spiritual level, it is clear that maybe one does not even have to pay attention to certain movements of information, which are small enough or refer to notions, for example, magic, some notions, that one can influence the personality by some actions, yes? I mean, there is such a principle that if, so to speak, one is at a certain level of state, especially if the state of universal salvation, then the person becomes practically invulnerable, from the point of view of the fact that if he himself does not want - according to the original Divine meaning, he does not want it, nobody can reach him.

And here there is a question: why in logical phases of transition, yes?... For example, there is a reaction to any maybe negative information? That is why there are such elements in society, as, let us suppose, fascism, some elements of destruction, yes?... Where do they come from in the logic of people's actions? Well, the situation here is such that in deciding the system of government into the future, as I said, it seems very simple, we must solve the situation: how can we make sure that the load-bearing characteristics of the past are not left for the appearance of these destructive elements in the past? The future is very simple if we precisely control the past in terms of current control.

So, in order to avoid destructive explosions, yes?... nuclear or destructive elements such as fascism or some other elements of destruction, we must, first of all, proceed from what?... that once it began, yes?... - suppose fascism as a reaction system - to enter into the structure of the primary level, where, in general, the principle of emergence should be such that the elements of the mechanism of emergence, that is to enter as? that the elements of the mechanism of the original emergence of such phenomena, they will not give in the future destruction. It is as if we immediately block the system, saying that, yes, we are looking at it, studying it, but in the future it will definitely not happen. At least, the task, so that in that form, of course, it will not happen anymore, right?... but it is better that also typical systems do not happen.

Thus, if one enters, for example, what was originally the sound of a gunpowder explosion and locks the system, in the future already

A nuclear bomb won't explode. And when we know the primal principle, yes?...of these connections, we see that your state is that you already know it, you already can do it. Sort of like you, when you get into that state, you realize that element of primary analysis, what the Soul and the Spirit are doing at the same time, in Consciousness is giving precise control, that is analysis as a system of precise control. It is only necessary to set a problem and think about it, you get at once an exact, positive solution. This is this technology.

And when you come to this technology the way I'm telling you now, you have a stable control system, which can be quite easily transferable, by the way. That is, in fact, if you consider the process of control as a process of control with a stable transfer phase, the system is transferable in that you can, for example, tell you about this system directly. That is, for example, simply take, for example, a videotape, show it, say, this technology, it is so that, for example, the systems of your concrete control are received here, and they are transferable in this way, that is, such your results, the fact of transfer is that, having received the results, you have already transferred your results, as a matter of fact, so to speak. That is, they already understand much faster, yes? ... Who looks next, and they can, well, who looks next, not necessarily detail, not necessarily understand, for example, verbatim or the same there. It's not even a question of the same understanding, because reality, it's not the same, it's always different. Consequently, the question is only to be able to manage reality with the condition of, well, multi-level changes, which is why, by the way, I try to give a lot of different systems and at the same time give it for the first time, that is, new.

And when you do control - transfer, for example, my "The teachings of salvation and harmonious development" can be transmitted like this? just show the videotape and show what your specific result is. When they are already trained, who is next trained in the system, he can either just show, or show his result, yes?...that is, the result as a factor in the exact transmission. That is, you don't have to take a sentence and tell it several times, right?...tell it, because even if you tell it, maybe some words there that change the sentence itself, but it's better to transfer it accurately. It's simple: the tape is your result. Matching the two parameters, because you got the result, is precision in purpose, right?...the video cassette itself, for example, or there audio cassette, or lectures, it's not the point there. The main thing is that by learning to transmit information accurately, it can be spread to infinity. And given that it's clear that if you can direct control there to displace a negative event, what's the problem - the more people who do it, the more sustainable the development of civilization simply is,

Right now, the situation is that we are on the way to organizing this reality, which is available to everyone, moreover. And when you master these technologies, of course, your task is to transfer, simply to actively transfer the knowledge of eternal development to a specific individual. I am not suggesting that eternal development is the goal, of course, but I am suggesting that every person can develop forever. Then there will be, yes, a full, that is, a complete eternity for everyone, as well as for all.

And when we consider such a position from the Creator, then we see the expansion from everyone, from everyone, and this expansion forms the exact logic, which is very, by the way, everyday logic. That is, when you look at the level of everyday logic, when a man goes to the store, for example, eats something, drinks, and decides on some domestic aspects, then this very logic is realized there, by the way, the logic of eternal development. It comes to you. As I said, the method when it comes, the logical phase of Consciousness is organized towards you. But in this case, from where to you? So, every element of "from whence" is that which is organized by the Creator, and you know it, you know it, that which is organized by the Creator, and you know it. But it's clear enough, that's how it is: the external environment, right?...on logic it's organized by the Creator, and you do know how to do that. But I came here in a different way, I came through the structure of Soul, Spirit and Consciousness work, not logically, right?...that is, I got into the logical phase through that which is shown by the Soul.

Thus, when you do control and show it with the Soul, then you can find a lot of confirmations, first of all, yes?... explanations, very simple examples, which can be understood very quickly. And in the task of knowledge transfer it is not always such an absolute simplicity of some kind or some very uniform system of understanding of the teaching material, and in fact if to transfer the technologies according to the structure of development of man to the animal, to the outer world, yes?... outer world and to inform the outer world, and to inform the task of control, because even the molecular level control should be done, if it is necessary even with the accentuate the active phase of Consciousness, then it turns out that the task, logically, cannot be the same. That's how to transfer knowledge, information to molecules, right?...so that the nuclear reactor doesn't work in the negative direction? And, in principle, it's often enough to stop one molecule, and then the reactor is instantly turned off, because it's a one-type system.

And it turns out that if we know, yes?... the system of mutual relations, if we know how man relates to the external system of reality, then we get a very prolonged, actually infinite control system, which is infinite now, because it ensures that in the next second the world is not destroyed, that there are prospects and not only prospects, but they - just see that they will be mastered, exactly mastering the technology of universal salvation, and all, as with the elements of course, time and that about achieving exactly eternal harmonic development - well how

And when we come to such a concept as "time interval" - here I was saying all the time until now "spatial, right?...element" - and here I am now applying the element of time, well I was saying there about the past, the future, but now I am also saying that time as a geometrical coordinate. And so when we time goes to the same place where the Soul point was concentrated, just time, in optical terms silvery-light, silvery-light is the sphere of universal salvation, time that has the same color is the time when all are saved necessarily. This is how Consciousness works, this law of how Consciousness works. Same-type systems work the same way according to your will.

We impose on the element the state of the Soul in the outer point and we get that for the transmission of the knowledge of universal salvation often what can be done? Simply to inform time by simply superimposing the Soul point concentration on that information. Here is the area of Soul concentration that is concentrated, we take the time where there is universal salvation, impose here simply in the space of thought and we obtain that we have thus transmitted knowledge to all at once. The time where there is universal salvation - there all development is concentrated on the spatial plane, therefore it is enough to inform the time in the space of thinking, and we have a transmission to all. Because, for instance, a local case, right?...it would seem to be a private task: saving a nuclear power plant from destruction, from an explosion. Here in the understanding of events it is necessary for the personnel to work correctly, so that a lot of technological complexes are taken into account. And if to inform everyone on the correct interaction, then it, well, maybe you need a few days then, right?... and a few people to work. And if you allocate from the fraction of the future a time where the station is already saved, and there are no problems, then you simply impose on the spatial area of this NPP location, and the NPP can be near the Soul Activation Point-the point that creates your own body-then you can attach any body movement, even a resting state, to that station being saved. Then you don't have to concentrate, just bind it: you can just watch TV and the station is being saved.

And often the situation is that there is only an element of binding, right? Why we are one thinking... well just thinking as if it can be inactive controlling, and we need, yes?... to achieve well in infinite even activity or something, in the understanding of obligatory salvation. So, the notion of "salvation" is such that there, in the future, yes?... here goes, flows some process. And we can't afford to sit there often, to watch, especially if this station could lead to a reaction of satellite systems - there could be a global war, there could be a takeoff of these missiles, well there could be a reaction of missiles. The equipment is often in an unusable state right now - in a worn-out state. That is, we cannot even allow it to begin. So watching TV and seeing what is being saved there is not even the same situation, but it kind of says that even in this state you can be saved either when you are sleeping or when you are doing something, in general, of your own doing, which would seem to be inactive there in relation to a particular nuclear power plant.

So, to wrap up, you know, to complete the process, so that it is stable, and it is known that there is no more this global destruction, not even local destruction, it is enough to take a concentrated level from the plane of future events - a kind of a ball of connection of Soul, Spirit, and Consciousness in one point - and just give an impulse, That it rolls down on a temporal plane into a geometrical point of the nuclear power plant, and so your Consciousness, your Spirit, i.e. into the maximum space, what everybody has, they start attracting resources of everybody to this nuclear power plant, so that it is not destroyed, yes?..

But you must declare your concentrated level, namely the integral level, because the integral level, it gives more unifying characteristics to people. People are more, quicker to perceive integrated information, exactly all the information about the system. So if you look at electoral technology, people often see for the first time, right?...which candidate, nevertheless, they elect there according to some principles, not because they know exactly what he can even do, but simply here - the integrality of perception. Every aspect is perceived integrally.

And also the Soul perceives the element of the logical phase in perception also integrally. That is, if you look at the logical phase from the Soul, it also perceives integrally. And now, this level of universality, it gives obligatory salvation, because you show how to act to others, and you translate the time aspect, you work on the plane, for example of time, on the plane of notions, because the notion of Spirit... for example, if the concept of Spirit, Soul and Consciousness is a concept as well, yes?.. In the logical phase, besides that you see, yes, that they work, and it is so originally from the Creator, there is also a concept about that. And when you use the notion and plus the notion of the plane of time, then roll from the future phase - in the future there is no longer this problem. It is enough to mechanically connect the concept with the phase again in the concept, yes?...of time, you get a very rigid, unambiguous control system, when you definitely will not allow, for example some catastrophe.

Well, people have the most power when they do not allow a global catastrophe. It often seems to them - it is very simple: made the control, disappeared information. More local level, more differentiated, to prevent it, then first you have to keep the level so that there is no global, and then move, if there is time, to the fact that there are no local. So the more people work, the less and in general should disappear - and so it will be - even some local problems, because you can restore everything, you can make control through both the past and the future.

Thus, as a result of today's meeting, I have shown a technology which is based on the fact that you highlight the control structure of the Soul, the Spirit, and to a greater extent the logical phase of Consciousness. At the same time I have added control, which well it is not described, for example, in words completely, but if you follow the text of today's meeting, then between the words there are elements of control, which actually work as a controlling system. And so even if a person, well there, does not necessarily have to understand exactly the same kind of directed words, he still receives the controlling impulse on universal salvation exactly the one that is not distorted. Why is it that I recommend watching the videotapes that there are controlling elements between the words that are universal.

And I believe that in the future, when you spread these technologies of mine for universal salvation, try to practice more on a specific system first, that is, specific results, specific absolutely spreading technologies, where people, who, maybe, even through tenths, through millions, yes?.. hands, they would get the same result. The main task is not to change the level of information transfer, because if I'm diagnosing a nuclear power plant or an airplane, a man-made system, or even a cure for seemingly incurable diseases, right? You have to know the exact trajectory of a single cell, and that, that turns out to be precise. And as long as the data transfer takes place now, and it is precisely of this type, because the situation in reality is always such that the task of universal salvation must be solved, because, first of all, there are also many systems of global destruction, which means that it must always be solved, then the transfer must not be distorted. This is the basic task. When you have learned, it is desirable further that whoever understands, they should also understand exactly directly. As I say now, they must understand directly.

That concludes my meeting for today. Thank you very much for your attention. Have a good day.
